

BHARATH COACHING CENTRE

10th CBSE

Political Parties

Total: 50

Social

Time: 1.30 hrs

SECTION – A

5 x 1 = 5

1. A group which contests elections, holds political power and runs the government is called _____.
2. _____ party leads the UPA government.
3. In order to become a national party, _____ percent of votes are required by a party in the Lok Sabha election.
4. _____ party won the highest number of seats in 2004 Lok Sabha election.
5. National Congress Party was formed in 1999 after splitting from _____.

SECTION – B

5 X 3 = 15

1. Why do we need political parties? Give three reasons?
2. Differentiate between mono-party and bi-party systems?
3. Name the national parties of India along with their symbols?
4. Write about the objectives of the Bahujan Samaj Party?
5. Describe the various challenges of political parties?

SECTION – C

6 X 5 = 30

1. "Political parties play a major role in democracy"- Explain.
2. State the different party systems existing in various countries?. Give the example of each system.
3. "No party system is ideal for all countries and in all situations". Justify the statement?
4. Differentiate between Bharatiya Janata Party and Indian National Congress ?
5. What is defection? What measures have been taken to control it ?
6. Suppose, you are going to form a political party. What ideologies would you like to keep in mind? Explain.